

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, Owner and Editor.

"Of a Noisy World, With News From All Nations Lumbering at His Back."

$1.00 A YEAR, Always in Advance.

ELEVENTH YEAR.

HAZEL GREEN, WOLFE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1865.

NUMBER 18.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 19, 1865.

Will there be another bond issue, or an extra session of congress? These questions are being discussed, notwithstanding Secretary Carlisle's statement that there is nothing alarming about the government's finances. It is known that the bond syndicate wants another issue of bonds which under their contract would have to be sold to them at the old price, if issued previous to October 15, next, and that it expects to get it. Prominent democrats have protested against another issue of bonds, advising instead the calling of an extra session of congress, if the Treasury finds itself unable to get along under the regular session. But there is no certainty that congress, which will be strongly anti-administration, would provide the money in time, even if an extra session were called. It is predicted that unless there should be an unexpected large increase in the revenues of the government within the next three months the gold reserve will have to be encroached upon to meet ordinary obligations. Meanwhile there is always danger that gold speculators may draw the gold out.

Secretary Hoke Smith left for Georgia today to take part in the state campaign and to explain to the democratic voters why he changed from silver to gold after he became a member of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet. The explanation he gave in Washington was that he never studied the question until he entered the cabinet, but that may not go down in Georgia. Smith thinks and dreams of little else but his desire to succeed Gordon in the senate. It seems rather queer that just as Mr. Smith is going into Georgia to preach against silver that ex-Speaker Crisp, who will be one of Smith's opponents in the fight for that seat in the senate, and who is a silver man, or says he is, should be getting ready to make a European tour for his health.

Venily politics is an uncertain game. This is constantly being brought to mind, but there has been no more striking reminder of it than the assertion made here this week by ex-Senator Sanders, of Montana, that the republicans of Montana were in favor of the nomination of John Sherman for President. It would not have been more astonishing had Senator Hill declared in favor of a third term for Mr. Cleveland, or the latter gentleman in favor of the nomination of the former. Let some one should suppose this statement to be manufactured the words of ex-Senator Sanders are appended: "You can say for me that Montana thinks that John Sherman is the man for the place, and, although we have been informed by him that he would not accept the nomination if it were offered him, our delegation will cast a complimentary vote for the great financier."

According to the latest story current in Washington, President Cleveland is about to spring a surprise on those democratic senators and representatives who still refuse to abandon their advocacy of the free coining of silver, and to endorse the "sound money" policy laid down by President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle. This surprise is to be the removal of every Federal office holder appointed on the recommendation of a silver senator or representative, as fast as man recommended by "sound money" democrats can be agreed upon to take their places. That would be an Andrew Jackson sort of policy sure enough, but, in view of President Cleveland's civil service reform professions, it is difficult to believe that he really contemplates putting such a policy into effect, although prominent members of his party believe it and endorse it too. Should such a programme really be carried out it would mean a change in more than half of the Federal offices in the south, unless the men who now hold them should placate the administration by declaring for "sound money." Such a policy would make certain President Cleveland's control of the next democratic National convention, but it would all the same be a very serious mistake both for him and his party. It would not be the first time, nor the second, that an administration has tried to muzzle the opponents of its policy. But in no case in which this muzzle has been resorted to has the administration which tried it or the party it represented been the gainer thereby. It is obvious to the American sense of fair play. Argue with a man and convince him, if you can, but don't shut his mouth by threats or by force. I believe that this story has been put about more as a bluff than with any serious intention to really carry it out.

Names of Kentucky Towns and Counties.

The Capital Printing Company has just sent out to the county seats of Kentucky something more than six hundred thousand assessment blanks. The man who acted as shipping clerk was reminded anew that those who have occasion to keep track of the names of counties and county seats of Kentucky, must keep their wits clear and memory green on account of similarity of names.

For instance: Owenton is in Owen county and Owingsville is in Bath county; Burlington is in Boone county and Bonneville is in Boone county; Mc Kee is in Jackson county, and Jackson is in Breathitt county; Elizabethtown is in Hardin county, and Hardinsburg is in Brockinridge county; West Liberty is in Morgan county, and Morgantown is in Butler county; Bardwell is in Carlisle, and Carlisle is in Nicholas, and Nicholasville is in Jessamine county; Leitchfield is in Grayson, and Grayson is in Carter county; Richmond is in Madison, Madisonville is in Hopkins, and Hopkinsville is in Christian county; Manchester is in Clay, and Clay City is in Powell county; Lebanon is in Marion, and Marion is in Crittenden county; Frankfort is in Franklin, and Franklin is in Simpson, and Simpsonville is in Shelby county; Albany is in Clinton, and Clinton is in Hickman, and Hickman is in Fulton county; Jamestown is in Russell, and Russellville is in Logan county; Georgetown is in Scott, and Scottsville is in Allen county; Newport is in Campbell, and Campbellsville is in Spencer county; Greensburg is in Green, Greenville is in Muhlenberg, Bowling Green is in Warren, and Hazel Green is in Warren county.

Wayne County Tragedy.

MONTICELLO, Ky., July 20.—Mrs. Nancy Slavens, who had lived in this county all her life and reared a large family, has been murdered at her home on Big South Fork, near the old Beatty oil well. Mrs. Slavens owned considerable property, the control of which is thought to have been the incentive for the crime. She is also said to have been a pensioner and to have laid by a considerable sum of money, which has probably gone into the pockets of the murderer and his accomplices.

Several grandchildren of Mrs. Slavens lived with her and worked on the farm. They claim that the aged woman shot herself with a pistol belonging to one of them. The ball had entered between the seventh and eighth ribs, ranged upward and broke her neck. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that she came to her death by a pistol shot fired by the hand of some unknown person.

Read THE HERALD and be happy.

MR. LYKINS AND THE TAXPAYERS.

Wolfe County Court of Claims, 1894.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $35.00 for services as bridge commissioner.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $50.00 for services as bridge commissioner.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed the sum of $50.00 for his services as jail commissioner.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $26.71 as interest on $218.72 for two months and twenty days. (This is 5% interest.)

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $7.08 for collecting $244.10 tax due from the Kentucky Union railroad. (This is over 50% for collection. It was his official duty to collect it for nothing.)

STATE OF KENTUCKY, } scat:

WOLFE COUNTY, } I, J. B. Hollon, Clerk of the Wolfe County Court, certify the foregoing are true copies of orders as shown on record in my office.

Witness my hand this June 8, 1895.
J. B. HOLLON, C. W. C. C.
BY RICHMOND HOLLOW, D. C.

I was Probate Judge of Wolfe County in 1894, and at the request of the chairman of the State Board of Equalization of Kentucky, I appointed as committee, Mr. Lykins, C. Hanks, Howard Stover and John Vannerson, to come with myself to Frankfort to show cause why the taxes of Wolfe county should not be raised above the assessment. Mr. Lykins went to Louisville and never appeared before the Board. Still he charged the people of Wolfe county $18.22, amount of expenses of said trip.

J. A. TAUFILEE,
Ex-Judge of Wolfe County.

Mr. Lykins was county attorney at the time the above claims were allowed, and it was his official duty to act without pay. Besides it is not Democratic to charge such prices for a few hours service.

S. J. Salyer, county attorney for Morgan county, served his people in a like capacity in inspecting the bridges over the North Fork and Licking rivers and never charged a cent for his services.

Besides receiving the above large claims and many others also, Mr. Lykins received a salary of $400 per annum for his services as county attorney.

Which will you vote for, Mr. Lykins, a representative of corporations, or Mr. Rose, a man of the people?

AN ASIATIC LION

Loose in the Wilds of Morgan County and is Heading This Way.

We were informed by a lady who resides near Paragon, Ky., who was in town Saturday, that great excitement prevails up in Morgan county in the Painter branch neighborhood, and not far from Yocum Springs, on account of a very large and savage looking wild beast that roams at large in the timbered country, playing sad havoc with the sheep and hogs that are so unfortunate as to fall within his observation.

This monster of the forest was first discovered about two weeks ago by some children who were out gathering huckleberries about one mile from Painter branch school house. It was near half past four o'clock in the afternoon and night was just beginning to spread her somber mantle over Painter branch vicinity, where, owing to the dense pine trees that dot the mountain side the flood of darkness takes his throne much earlier than in the blueray region of the state, and as the children were silently wending their way down one of the dark ravines so common in Morgan county, imagine their horror, when upon turning a sharp curve in the gulch there right before them, not more than twenty feet ahead stood the most savage and ferocious monster their innocent eyes had ever beheld. The animal was standing midway the cow path that leads out into the large branch with one foot resting upon the half devoured carcass of a good sized calf, which he was greedily devouring when first interrupted by the children.

The oldest of the children was a boy of 14 years of age, who describes the beast as being of a dirty yellow color, standing about four feet high large cat-like eyes, heavy mien and bushy tail, large legs with feet or paws something like the size of a common skillet. The children became much frightened at the beast and fled back up the gulch and across the hill home by another way, which threw them much into the night. When the children arrived home they were half scared to death, and at once related their experience to their father, who the next morning scoured the houses of his neighbors and a pack of hounds, and was soon on the trail of the animal, and after about three hours trailing the dogs succeeded in scenting the strange monster, which the father of the children firmly declares to be a genuine Asiatic lion. The lion was found by the dogs in a thick patch of laurel bushes, not far from where the children saw it. The dogs chased it fifteen or twenty miles, and finally run it in a large cave, which is located on a stream known as Black Water. Around the entrance of this cave the ground was literally covered with bones.

A large posse has been organized to find and capture the animal, but as yet we have failed to learn of their success.—Morehead Ad-

MANY STAMPS

Demanded by Increasing Revenue Collections.

That the internal revenue receipts are picking up the daily report of Henry L. Godsey, superintendent of the stamp vault of the Internal Revenue Bureau, shows beyond all question. Superintendent Godsey has charge of all the internal revenue stamps, and it is his business to fill the orders of the collectors. Here is the order for stamps shipped July 18:

Tobacco, $43,985; snuff, $89,20; cigars, $100,140; cigarettes, $10,000; beer, $901,000; spirits (whiskey), $1,488,850; special tax, $14,000; oleomargarine, $4,440; Total, $2,618,554.25.

The stamps for spirits were ordered by the collector for the Springfield (Ill.) district, where most of the Trust goods are held. Kentucky collectors have also been sending in large orders, which indicate withdrawals of whisky at $1.10 a gallon. The shipment of stamps for the present month averages about $700,000 a day.—Sunday Courier-Journal.

School Per Capita Increased.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 15.—The Auditor to-day announced an increase of five cents on the common school per capita. This will not be particularly gratifying news to those who were expecting to make a howl on this score, but it will be good news to the Democrats none the less. In speaking of the increased school fund, Supt. Thompson says:

"Notwithstanding the fact that the school population of Kentucky has run up to nearly 728,000, the Auditor's estimate of funds available for common school purposes enables me to declare for the school year ending June 30, 1866, a general per capita of $2.89. To this is to be added interest on county bonds."

Read THE HERALD and be happy.

STORM SWEPT

And Half a Million Damage Done in The Oil Fields.

FINDLAY, Ohio, July 19.—One of the most destructive windstorms that ever visited Northwestern Ohio, passed through Findlay this afternoon. The sun had been shining brightly all day, and but for a gentle breeze that blew from the south the heat would have been almost unbearable.

At three o'clock, however, dark clouds began to gather to the southwest, and about an hour later a heavy rain began to fall, which in a few minutes turned to hail, and was accompanied by a cyclone, which soon swept over the city, coming from the southwest. Several houses in the outskirts of the city were blown from their foundations, and a dozen more were unroofed. A wagon belonging to the American Express Company was overturned on Main street, and the driver narrowly escaped with his life. Awnings and signs were blown about promiscuously, and a number of plate-glass windows were destroyed by coming in contact with flying signs. Trees were blown down, and on a number of streets traffic has been suspended until the debris can be removed. The bell tower at the Central Engine House was blown down precipitating the bell onto the roof of the barn, in which four of the horses were standing, and completely wrecking the building, but the horses escaped without injury. The path of the cyclone was confined to a space of several hundred feet, and its path west of the city limits is marked by overthrown oil derricks, unroofed barns and uprooted orchards. The loss in the oil field will reach several hundred thousand dollars, and it is estimated that the damage to property in the city will reach $500,000. The damage to fruit trees and the growing corn is hard to estimate, but will reach well up into the thousands. No one was seriously injured, but a large number of people received slight injuries by being hit by falling trees. The cyclone lasted about five minutes, and after the wind quit blowing the clouds all disappeared, and the rain passed away as quickly as it came.

Rats and Rattle Snakes.

DANVILLE, Ky., July 18.—Thompson J. Bailey, the well-known revenue man, now on duty at Curley's Distillery, in Jessamine county, tells the story of the remarkable victory won by a rat in a battle with a rattlesnake. The snake was five feet six inches long, and was caught in the cliffs of the Kentucky River and sold to a country storekeeper, who imprisoned the reptile in a box covered with glass and exhibited it as a curiosity to his customers. The grocer caught a rat and a large frog and put them in the box for the snake to dine upon. The following morning the frog was missing, but his ratship was still upon the scene of action, and apparently indifferent to the snake's presence. The rat remained undisturbed all that day, but the grocer, confidently expected the snake to make a meal off the rodent that night. In this, however, he was mistaken. The next morning when he examined the box he found the snake dead, and the rat perched upon its head. A large place in the snake's hide showed that the rat had satisfied his hunger with a dish of rattlesnake. The box gave evidence of a struggle between the snake and rat, and marks upon the snake's body showed that the rat had been quicker with his fangs than the snake had with his fangs. The rat was unjured and was kept as a curiosity.

Bring us your job work and read THE HERALD.

TALMAGE.

The Unscripted Sin Against The Holy Ghost.

In his sermon for July 14, Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still in the West on his annual summer tour, chose a subject which has been a fruitful theme of theological disputation for centuries past, viz: "The Unpardonable Sin." The texts selected were: "All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come." Matthew xii., 31, 32.

"He found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears." Hebrews xii., 17.

As sometimes you gather the whole family around the evening stand to hear some book read, so now we gather—a great Christian family group—to study this text; and now may one and the same lamp cast its glow on all the circle!

You see from the first passage that I read, that there is a sin against the Holy Ghost for which a man is never pardoned. Once having committed it, he is bound hand and foot for the dungeons of despair. Sermons may be preached to him, songs may be sung to him, prayers may be offered in his behalf; but all to no purpose. He is a captive for this world, and a captive for the world that is to come. Do you suppose that there is any one here who committed that sin? All sins are against the Holy Ghost; but my text speaks of one especially. It is very clear to my own mind, that the sin against the Holy Ghost was the ascribing of the works of the Spirit to the agency of the devil in the time of the apostles. Indeed, the Bible distinctly tells us that. In other words, if a man had sight given to him, or if another was raised from the dead, and some one standing there should say, "This man got his sight by satanic power; the Holy Spirit did not do this. Beelzebub accomplished it;" or, "This man raised from the dead was raised by satanic influence," the man who said that dropped down under the curse of the text, and had committed the fatal sin against the Holy Ghost.

Now, I don't think it is possible in this day to commit that sin. I think it was possible only in apostolic times. But it is a terrible thing ever to say anything against the Holy Ghost, and it is a marked fact that our race has been marvelously kept back from profanity. You hear a man swear by the name of the Eternal God, and by the name of Jesus Christ, but you never heard a man swear by the name of the Holy Ghost. There are those here today who fear they are guilty of the unpardonable sin. Have you such anxiety? Then I have to tell you positively that you have not committed that sin, because the very anxiety is the result of the movement of the gracious Spirit, and your anxiety is proof positive, as certainly as anything that can be demonstrated in mathematics, that you have not committed the sin that I have been speaking of. I can look off upon this audience and feel that there is salvation for all. It is not like when they put out with those life-boats from the "Loch Earn" for the Villa du Havre. They knew that there was not room for all of the passengers, but they were going to do as well as they could. But today we run the life-boat of the gospel, and we cry out over the sea, "Room for all!" Oh that the Lord Jesus Christ, would this hour, bring you all out of the flood of sin, and plant you on the deck of the glorious old gospel craft!

But while I have said I do not think it is possible for us to commit the particular sin spoken of in the first text, I have by reason of the second text to call your attention to the fact that there are sins which, though they may be pardoned, are in some respects irrevocable; and you can find no place for repentance, though you seek it carefully with tears. Esau had a birthright given him. In olden times it meant not only temporal but spiritual blessing. One day Esau took this birthright and traded it off for something to eat. Oh, the folly! But let us not be too severe on him, for some of us have committed the same folly. After he had made the trade he wanted to get it back. Just as though you tomorrow morning should take all your notes and bonds and government securities, and should go into a restaurant, and in a fit of recklessness and hunger throw all those securities on the counter and ask for a plate of food, making that exchange. This was the case Esau made. He sold his birthright for a mess of pottage, and he was very sorry about it afterward; but "he found no place for repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears."

There is an impression in almost every man's mind that somewhere in the future there will be a chance where he can correct all his mistakes. Live as we may, if we only repented in time, God will forgive us, and then all will be as well as though we had never committed sin. My discourse shall come in collision with this theory. I shall show you, my friends, as God will help me, that there is such a thing as unsuccessful repentance, that there are things done wrong that always stay wrong, and for them you may seek some place of repentance, and seek it carefully, but never find it.

Belonging to this class of irrevocable mistakes is the folly of a missspotted youth. We may look back to our college-days, and think how we neglected chemistry, or geology, or botany, or mathematics. We may be sorry about it all our days. Can we ever get the discipline or the advantage that we would have had had we attended to those duties in early life? A man wakes up at forty years of age and finds that his youth has been wasted, and he strives to get back his early advantages. Does he get them back—the days of his boyhood, the days in college, the days under his father's roof? "Oh," he says, "if I could only get those times back, how I would improve them!" My brother, you will never get them back. They are gone, gone. You may be very sorry about it, and God may forgive you for that, but you may at least reach heaven; but you will never get over some of the mishaps that have come to your soul as a result of your neglect of early duty. You may try to undo it; you can't undo it. When you had a boy's arms and a boy's eyes and a boy's heart you ought to have attained to those things. A man says at fifty years, "I do wish I could get over these habits of indolence." When did you get them? At twenty or twenty-five years of age. You can not shake them off. They will hang to you to the very day of your death. If a young man through a long course of evil conduct undermines his physical health, and then repents of it in after life, the Lord may pardon him; but that does not bring back good physical condition. I said to a minister of the gospel one Sabbath at the close of his sermon, "Where are you preaching now?" "Oh," he says, "I am not preaching, I am suffering from the physical effects of early sin. I can't preach now, I am sick." A consecrated man he now is, and he mourns bitterly over early sin; but that does not arrest their bodily effects.

The simple fact is that men and women often take twenty years of their life to build up influences that require all the rest of their life to break down. Talk about a man beginning life when he is 21 years of age; talk about a woman beginning life when she is 18 years of age! Ah, no! In many respects that is the time they close life. In nine cases out of ten, all the questions of eternity are decided before that. Talk about a majority of men getting their fortunes between 30 and 20. When you tell me that a man is just beginning life, I tell you he is just closing it. The next fifty years will not be of as much importance to him as the first twenty.

* Now, why do I say this? Is it for the annoyance of those who have only a baleful retrospect? You know that is not my way. I say it for the benefit of young men and women. I want them to understand that eternity is wrapped up in this hour; that the sins of youth we never get over; that you are now fashioning the mold in which your great future is to run; that a minute, instead of being sixty seconds long, is made up of everlasting ages. You see what dignity and importance this gives to the life of our young folks. Why, in the light of this subject, life is not something to be trifled away, nor something to be smirked about, not something to be danced out, but something to be weighed in the balances of eternity. Oh, young man! the sin of yesterday, the sin of tomorrow, will reach over ten thousand years, ay, over the great and eternal eternity. You may, after awhile, say, "I am very sorry. Now, I have got to be 80 or 40 years of age, and I do wish I had never committed those sins." What does that amount to? God may pardon you; but undo those things you never will, you never can.

In this same category of irrevocable mistakes I put all parental neglect. We begin the education of our children too late. By the time they get to be 10 or 15 we wake up to our mistakes, and try to eradicate this bad habit, and change that; but it is too late. That parent who omits, in the first ten years of the child's life, to make an eternal impression for Christ, never makes it. The child will probably go on with all the disadvantages which might have been avoided by parental faithfulness. Now you see what a mistake that father or mother makes who puts off too late life adherence to Christ. Here is a man who at 50 years of age says to you, "I must be a Christian," and he yields his heart to God, and sits in the place of prayer today a Christian. None of us can doubt it. He goes home and says, "Here at 50 years of age I have given my heart to the Savior. Now I must establish a family altar." What? Where are your children now? One in Boston; another in Cincinnati; another in New Orleans; and you, my brother, at your fiftieth year going to establish your altar? Very well; better late than never; but alas, alas, that you did not it twenty-five years ago!

When I was in Chamouni, Switzerland, I saw in the window of one of the shops a picture that impressed my mind very much. It was a picture of an accident that occurred on one of the Swiss mountains. A company of travelers, with guides, went up some very steep places—places which very few travelers attempted to go up. They were, as all travelers are there, fastened together with cords at the waist, so that if one slipped the rope would hold him—the rope fastened to the others. Passing along the most dangerous point, one of the guides slipped, and they all started down the precipice; but after awhile one more muscular than the rest stuck his heels into the ice and stopped; but the rope broke, and down, hundreds and thousands of feet, the rest went. And so I see whole families bound together by ties of affection, and in many cases walking on slippery places of worldliness and sin. The father knows it and the mother knows it, and they are all bound together. After awhile they begin to slide down steeper and steeper, and the father becomes alarmed, and he stops, planting his feet on the "Rock of Ages." He stops, but the rope breaks, and those who were once tied fast to him by moral and spiritual influences, go over the precipice. Oh, there is such a thing as coming to Christ soon enough to save ourselves, but not soon enough to save others!

How many parents wake up in the latter part of life to find out the mistake! The parent says: "I have been too lenient," or "I have been too severe in the discipline of my children. If I had the little ones around me again, how different I would do it!" You will never have them around again. The work is done, the beat to the character is given, the eternity is decided. I say this to young parents—those who are 25 or 30 years of age—have the family altar tonight. How do you suppose that father fell as he leaned over the couch of his dying child and the expiring son said to him, "Father, you have been very good to me. You have given me a fine education, and you have placed me in a fine social position; you have done everything for me in a worldly sense; but father, you never told me how to die. Now I am dying, and I am afraid."

In this category of irrevocable mistakes, I place also the unkindness done the departed. When I was a boy, my mother used to say to me sometimes, "De Witt, you will be sorry for this when I am gone." And I remember just how she looked, sitting there, with cap and spectacles, and the old Bible in her lap, and she never said a truer thing than that, for I have often been sorry since. While we have our friends with us, we say unguarded things that wound the feelings of those to whom we ought to give nothing but kindness. Perhaps the parent, without inquiring into the matter boxes the child's ears. The little one, who has fallen in the street, comes in covered with dust, and, as though the first disaster were not enough, she whips. After awhile the child is taken, or the parent is taken, or the companion is taken, and those who are left say: "Oh, if we could only get back those unkind words, those unkind deeds; if we could only recall them!" But you can not get them back. You might bow down over the grave of that loved one, and cry and cry—the white lips would make no answer. The stars shall be plucked out of their sockets, but these influences shall not be torn away. The world shall die, but there are some wrongs immortal. The moral of which is, take care of your friends while you have them; spare the scolding; be economical of the satire; shut up in a dark cave, from which they shall never swarm forth, all the words that have a sting in them. You will wish you had some day—very soon you will have—perhaps tomorrow. Oh, yes. While with a firm hand you administer parental discipline, also administer it very gently, lest some day there be a little slab in the cemetery and on it chiseled, "Our Willie," or "Our Charlie;" and though you bow down prone in the grave, and seek a place of repentance, and seek it carefully with tears, you can not find it.

There is another sin that I place in the class of irrevocable mistakes, and that is lost opportunity of getting good. I never come to a Saturday night but I can see during that week that I have missed opportunities of getting good. I never come to my birthday but I can see that I have wasted many chances of getting better. I never go home on Sabbath from the discussion of a religious theme without feeling that I might have done it in a more successful way. How is it with you? If you take a certain number of bushels of wheat and scatter them over a certain number of acres of land, you expect a harvest in proportion to the amount of wheat scattered. And I ask you now, have the sheaves of moral and spiritual harvest corresponded with the advantages given? How has it been with you? You may make resolutions for the future, but past opportunities are gone. In the long procession of future years all those past moments will march; but the archangel's trumpet that wakes the dead will not awake up for you one of these privileges. Esau has sold his birthright, and there is not wealth enough in the treasure-houses of heaven to buy it back again. What does that mean? It means that if you are going to get any advantage out of this Sabbath Day, you will have to get it before the hand wheels around on the clock to 12 noon. It means that every moment of our life has two wings, and that it does not fly like a hawk in circles, but in a straight line from eternity to eternity. It means that though other Christians may break down, or drag heavily, this one never drops the bridle, and never ceases to run. It means that while at other feasts cups may be passed to us and we may reject it, and yet after a while take it, the cup-bearers to this feast never give us but one chance, at the chalice, and rejecting that, we shall find no place for repentance, though we seek it carefully with tears.

There is one class more of sins that I put in this category of irrevocable sins, and that is lost opportunity of usefulness. Your business partner is a proud man. In ordinary circumstances, say to him, "Believe in Christ," and he will say, "You mind your business, and I'll mind mine." But there has been affliction in the household. His heart is tender. He is looking around for sympathy and solace. Now is your time. Speak, speak, or forever hold your peace. There is a time in farm life when you plant the corn and when you sow the seed. Let that go by, and the farmer will ring his hands while other husbands are gathering the sheaves. You are in a religious meeting, and there is an opportunity for you to speak a word for Christ. You say, "I will do it." Your cheek flushes with embarrassment. You raise half way, but you cower before men whose breath is in their nostrils, and you sag back, and the opportunity is gone and all eternity will feel the effect of your silence. Try to get back that opportunity! You cannot find it. You might as well try to find the fleece that Gideon watched, or take in your hand the dew that came down on the locks of the Bethlehem shepherds, or to find the plume of the first robin that went across paradise. It is gone; it is gone forever. When an opportunity for personal repentance or of doing good passes away, you may hunt for it; you cannot find it. You may fish for it; it will not take the hook. You may dig for it; you can not bring it up. Remember that there are wrongs and sins that can never be corrected; that our privileges fly not in circles, but in a straight line; that the lightnings have not as swift feet as our privileges when they are gone, and let an opportunity of salvation go by us an inch, the one-hundredth part of an inch, the thousandth part of an inch, the millionth part of an inch, and not man can overtake it. Fire-winged seraphim can not come up with it. The eternal God himself can not catch it.

I stand before those who have a glorious birthright. Esau's was not so rich as yours. Sell it once, and sell it forever. I remember the story of the lad on the Arctic some years ago—the lad Stewart Holland. A vessel crashed into the Arctic in the time of a fog, and it was found that the ship must go down. Some of the passengers got off in the life-boats, some got off on rafts; but 300 went to the bottom. During all these hours of calamity, Stewart Holland stood at the signal guns, and it sounded across the sea, boom! boom! The engineer was gone, and some faint and some prayed and some blasphemed, and powder was gone, and they could no more set off the signal gun. The lad broke in the magazine and brought me powder, and again the gun boomed over the sea. Oh, my friends toiled on the rough seas of life, some have taken the warning, have gone off in the life-boat, and they are safe; but others are not making any attempt to escape. So I stand at this signal gun of the gospel, sounding the alarm, Beware! Beware! "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation." Hear it that your soul may live!

Among the numerous persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Chamberlain's Pain Balm mention should be made of Mrs. Emily Thorne, of Toledo, Wash., who says: "I have never been able to procure any medicine that would relieve me of rheumatism like Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have also used it for lame back with great success. It is the best liniment I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends. For sale by M. Rose."

We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Briceland, Cal. "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best." For sale by J. M. Rose.

W. J. SEITZ,
W. M. KERR & CO.,
JOBBERS IN
Hardware & Agricultural Implements,
IRONTON, O.

WITHOUT A RAG

A Wild Woman Roams the Woods in Mercer County, Ohio.

CELINA, O., July 15.—Every county in this section of the country has had its people greatly excited by the appearance of wild man or woman, an escaped lion, tiger or leopard or some other wild animal from a passing show. Heretofore Mercer county has been singularly free from any such visitation. This county now comes to the front with a wild woman. Near Coldwater, a small village southwest of this city, is where this mysterious creature was first discovered, and the inhabitants of that usually quiet little place are now worked up to a fever heat of excitement and consternation. Since the discovery of this wild creature small children are afraid to venture out on the streets even in the day time.

Nobody goes to the woods, unless it is absolute necessity, for fear of meeting this creature. Strong and robust men are afraid to encounter her single handed. The discovery that a wild woman was running at large, and might at any moment be seen at your door, has spread a gloom of fear and anxiety over Coldwater. The "wild woman" is the sole topic of conversation in and around Coldwater.

The Enquirer correspondent visited the little village this morning and learned the following facts: Friday afternoon, as Henry Wapelhorst was returning from the country on his wheel, and when passing the old Lennartz farm, about three miles west of Coldwater, he suddenly came upon a woman sitting on the end of a cart. When within about 15 feet of Mr. Wapelhorst she turned and, seeing him, sprang down into the ditch and through a flood gate, from which she had torn two or three palings.

Mr. Wapelhorst immediately sprang from his wheel and followed this strange creature down through a large field of growing corn, and lost her in a large woods containing about 200 acres. Wapelhorst then returned to Coldwater and gave the alarm, and immediately gathered a posse of about 100 men, who started in pursuit, and continued the search all day Saturday and Sunday, but without result, although evidence of her having been in those woods was frequently discovered. At one place she was tracked to a ditch, and the impressions of her hands and knees in the soft mud, where she had stopped to get a drink of water, were plainly evident.

In this vicinity her tracks were measured, and are about eight inches long. Mr. Wapelhorst and Henry Hemmighorn, both of whom have seen this crazy creature, describe her as being a woman about 35 years old, tall and muscular, with heavy black hair hanging about her shoulders, and as free from the habiliments of woman as was Eve when she first wandered into the Garden of Eden. She is fleet-footed, and evidently a powerful woman. Some of the jumps she made while being pursued down through the cornfield by Mr. Wapelhorst measure over eight feet. Her body was dirty and badly tanned from exposure.

"Could you give me a dime to get something to eat?" asked the wild wanderer.

"I sincerely wish I could aid you," answered the high-browed young man, "but at present I am saving every cent to attend the Christian Endeavor Convention."

Mrs. Gadabout—Yes, the stolen goods were found on her. Of course, she defends herself by claiming to be a kleptomaniac.

Mrs. Uptodate—How foolish you know kleptomaniacs have gone out. Hypnotism is the correct defense now.

Cawker—Barlow made a rash prediction just now.

Cawmo—What did he say?

Cawker—He said that the time would come when it would be responsible to be honest.

Hills—That girl would make a very economical wife.

Dills—What makes you think so?

Hills—She seems to be a girl of middle or no waist.

TRY THE HERALD FOR ONE YEAR.

Stuttering Cured.

I want every stutterer in the United States to write to me at once. I can cure the worst case in a short time, was once the most inveterate stutterer in the land; I know the trouble you have and can relieve you of it. I refer all stutterers to Dr. W. B. Sauford and Dr. G. G. Buford, Memphis, Tenn. I have a fine sanatorium where I treat patients for stuttering and all nervous troubles. I board all my patients cheaply; when you write send stamp for reply. I cure by mail if desired.

G. W. RANDOLPH,
Memphis, Tenn.

Don't Stop Tobacco.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing comfort, health and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco, to a烟-vetero user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872 without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking Baco-Curo—it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent. interest. Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system pure and free from nicotine as the day when you took your first chew or smoke. Sold by all druggists, with our iron-clad guarantee, at $1.00 per box, three boxes (30 days' treatment) $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Send six 2-cent stamps for sample box, booklet and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Manufacturing Company, manufacturing chemists, LaCrosse, Wisconsin.

The Enquirer correspondent visited the little village this morning and learned the following facts: Friday afternoon, as Henry Wapelhorst was returning from the country on his wheel, and when passing the old Lennartz farm, about three miles west of Coldwater, he suddenly came upon a woman sitting on the end of a cart. When within about 15 feet of Mr. Wapelhorst she turned and, seeing him, sprang down into the ditch and through a flood gate, from which she had torn two or three palings.

Mr. Wapelhorst immediately sprang from his wheel and followed this strange creature down through a large field of growing corn, and lost her in a large woods containing about 200 acres. Wapelhorst then returned to Coldwater and gave the alarm, and immediately gathered a posse of about 100 men, who started in pursuit, and continued the search all day Saturday and Sunday, but without result, although evidence of her having been in those woods was frequently discovered. At one place she was tracked to a ditch, and the impressions of her hands and knees in the soft mud, where she had stopped to get a drink of water, were plainly evident.

In this vicinity her tracks were measured, and are about eight inches long. Mr. Wapelhorst and Henry Hemmighorn, both of whom have seen this crazy creature, describe her as being a woman about 35 years old, tall and muscular, with heavy black hair hanging about her shoulders, and as free from the habiliments of woman as was Eve when she first wandered into the Garden of Eden. She is fleet-footed, and evidently a powerful woman. Some of the jumps she made while being pursued down through the cornfield by Mr. Wapelhorst measure over eight feet. Her body was dirty and badly tanned from exposure.

"Could you give me a dime to get something to eat?" asked the wild wanderer.

"I sincerely wish I could aid you," answered the high-browed young man, "but at present I am saving every cent to attend the Christian Endeavor Convention."

Mrs. Gadabout—Yes, the stolen goods were found on her. Of course, she defends herself by claiming to be a kleptomaniac.

Mrs. Uptodate—How foolish you know kleptomaniacs have gone out. Hypnotism is the correct defense now.

Cawker—Barlow made a rash prediction just now.

Cawmo—What did he say?

Cawker—He said that the time would come when it would be responsible to be honest.

Hills—That girl would make a very economical wife.

Dills—What makes you think so?

Hills—She seems to be a girl of middle or no waist.

TRY THE HERALD FOR ONE YEAR.

Kentucky Democratic State Platform.

FIRST.—The Democracy of Kentucky in convention assembled congratulate the country upon the repeal of the McClellan tariff law, and upon the evidences we have on every hand of returning prosperity, under the operations of reduced and equalized taxation, and we denounce as fraudulent and dangerous the threat of our Republican adversaries to re-establish a protective tariff and to re-intrigate a policy of unequal taxation, which in connection with general misgovernment by the Republican party culminated in the business panic of 1893.

SECOND.—We condemn the Democratic party, which has always stood for the separation of church and state, for the sake alike of civil and religious freedom, does not hesitate to condemn all efforts to create a distinction among citizens because of differences in faith as repugnant to an enlightened age and abhorrent to the interests of the people.

THIRD.—We reaffirm without qualification the principles and policies declared by the National Democratic Platform of 1892, and declare that our present National Democratic Administration is entitled to the thanks of the party for its honest, courageous and judicious management of public affairs, and we heartily endorse and re-establish in the Democracy the patriotism of President Grover Cleveland and his distinguished co-advisor and Secretary, John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky.

FOURTH.—When the Democratic party came into power in 1867 the bonded indebtedness of Kentucky was over $200,000,000. The total value of the assets of the sinking fund was about $8,000,000, made up in part of internal improvements that cost over and were earned at a valuation of $1,800,000, but which yielded at that time no net revenue, and were worth in cash only about $500,000, thus showing an actual deficit in the sinking fund as compared with our indebtedness of about $100,000,000. Since 1867 the bonded indebtedness has been reduced to $650,000, and the available assets of the sinking fund more than equal that sum.

We have increased the annual appropriation for support of our charitable institutions from $250,000 in 1867 to $850,000 in 1885, and while improving our schools, we have decreased the number of courts and the frequency of their terms we have been compelled to increase our expenditures, one of the greatest items of which is the cost of criminal prosecutions, and a not ceasable fight in connection with which is that the increase is greatest in districts controlled by Republican officials. We have never before been compelled to decrease the current rate of taxation for general revenue purposes from twenty cents per one hundred dollars of taxable property in 1867 to fifteen cents in 1885. The Democratic majority have voluntarily increased the annual expenditures for the support of common schools from $150,000 in 1867 to about $2,000,000 in 1885, and by timely providing separate schools for the children of the colored race opportunities for education they nowhere else enjoy.

In the face of unexpected difficulties the Democratic party has succeeded in wholly withdrawing convicts labor from contractors, practically abolished the practice of hiring the convicts to the publican party of leasing the convicts to parties interested solely in making profit out of their labor, and in adopting the modern and improved methods by which the state and its officers are made directly responsible for the management of our state prisons and under which our penitentiary system has been and is being rapidly improved.

During the twenty-eight years the people have intrusted the Democratic party with the control of the state government, its administration has been characterized by the strictest economy and integrity, and in this regard we invite comparison with any Republican state government.

Finally, we express our confidence in the wisdom and honesty with which the present state administration has conducted the affairs of our state government.

THE HERALD and Courier-Journal $1.75 a year.

Constipation & Biliaryousness

Cause
Sick-headache,
Pains in the back,
Sallow complexion,
Loss of appetite and Exhaustion.

There is only one cure, which is
RAMON'S LIVER PILLS
—AND—
TONIC PELLETS

One Pink Pill touches the liver and removes the bile.

One Tonic Pellet nightly, acts as a gentle laxative in keeping the bowels open, restores the digestive organs, tones up the nervous system and makes new rich blood. Complete treatments two medicines, one price, 25¢.

Treatise and sample free at any store.
BROWN MFG. CO. NEW YORK.

IF YOU WANT THE BRIGHTEST, THE SHARPEST, THE MOST CUTTING, THE WHITEST, THE POREST, THE MOST COMPLETE RELIGIOUS PAPER IN EASTERN KENTUCKY, SUBSCRIBE FOR THE BIBLE SWORD. Subscription price, 60 cents a year. Published monthly. Address, THE BIBLE SWORD, EZEKIEL KY.

BRING YOUR JOB WORK TO THE HERALD OFFICE IF YOU WANT GOOD WORK AT REASONABLE PRICES.

JOHN H. ROSE, PRACTICAL

BLACKSMITH AND WAGON MAKER,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

I make a specialty of building Farm and Road Wagons, use only the Best Material, and guarantee satisfaction.

CALL AND GET MY PRICES, and when you need anything of the kind give me your order.

Patronize Home People, Get Only Honest Work, and Be Happy.

In the Horse Shoeing and Repair Department I employ only skilled labor, every man being an artist in his specialty, and your work is respectfully solicited.

WHEN YU FEEL RUN DOWN And all worn out, then strength and health fail. If you want to enjoy in its fullness that buoyancy of health and spirits that add so much to the forces and pleasures of life, use that greatest of all medicinal remedies—

Dr. King's Royal Germetuer

It will give you Appetite.
It will give you restful, refreshing Sleep.
It will stimulate your Digestion.
It will restore and preserve Energy.
It will purify your Blood.
It will change your weakness into Strength.
It will bring you out of sickness into Health.
KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Going to Lexington?

CALL ON
Fred. J. Heintz,
Manufacturing Jeweler,
Custom House Square.

J. A. TAULBEE, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

BY Surgery and obstetrics a specialty

H. MAUPIN,
WITH
REED, PEEBLE & CO.,
WHOLESALE DRY GOODS,
NOTIONS, ETC.,
PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.

THE HERALD
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING HOUSE
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

THE HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY.....July 25, 1895.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,
P. WAT HARDIN, of Mercer.

For Lieutenant Governor,
R. T. TYLER, of Fulton.

For Treasurer,
R. C. FORD, of Clay.

For Auditor,
L. C. NORMAN, of Boone.

For Register of the Land Office,
G. B. SWANGO, of Wolfe.

For Attorney General,
W. J. HENDRICK, of Fleming.

For Secretary of State,
HENRY S. HALE, of Graves.

For Sept. of Public Instruction,
ED FORTER THOMPSON, of Owen.

For Commissioner of Agriculture,
ION B. NALL, of Louisville.

EVERY Democrat in Morgan and Wolfe counties should go to the polls on Saturday and vote.

JO. BLACKBURN won another splendid victory last week at Lexington, Fayette county. The result there gives him three additional votes for senator.

MR. LYKINS, candidate for representative, registered at the Day House twice last week at midnight. He realizes fully the box he is in, and we hope he is prepared to meet his fate.

LET every friend of Judge Swango and Pomp Kendall give Mr. McCreary a slap in the face for his conduct at the late Democratic State convention. You can do so by voting for Robert G. Rose.

"THE wages of official sin is death." This is the text on which the people will preach Mr. Lykins' funeral after next Saturday. You see, Jo, you must answer for the deeds done by yourself while you were our county attorney.

SOME of the pious brethren don't like Elder Howard's criticism of Dr. Talmage. To those we respectfully ask a second reading and an impartial hearing of both sides. You will find the Dr. is not without inconsistencies.

WHITE caps took three notorious characters from the Booneville jail a few nights since, and gave them a sound thrashing. Two of them were ladies (?) and the other a gent. After they were flogged they were returned safely to the jailer.

LET every man who is a friend to Judge Swango and Pomp Kendall go to the polls next Saturday and vote for "Rose." McCreary whom Mr. Lykins represents has always been our enemy and did all he could to defeat both of our candidates in the State convention, while Gen. Buckner and Jo Blackburn both were for us.

THE HERALD is flat footed against McCreary and therefore for any man to defeat him. As the situation now presents itself, Gov. Buckner is our choice, but should he go down in defeat, then we are for anybody to beat McCreary. Our desire for his defeat has, among other things, caused us to espouse the cause of Mr. Rose, and not anything personal that we have against Mr. Lykins, who has always treated us courteously.

THESE are dull times, fellow citizens, and there is no use waiting for something to turn up as many of you are doing. Go to work and turn something up is the proper thing to do. Just pull off your coat and spit on your hands and hard times will cease knocking at your door. Try it. You can't make matters worse at all hazards.

ROBERT G. ROSE, candidate for the legislature from this district, has been confined to his home and bed by illness since last Friday evening, and on this account his friends should turn out en masse at the primary on Saturday. A full vote of his friends is necessary to his selection, and his illness should not prevent them from standing by him.

KENTUCKY is a state which enjoys a general prosperity than any other state in the Union. The real cause of this condition is that there are but few rich men and a very small number of exceedingly poor ones. Wealth is more nearly and equally distributed. It goes to show that in the bluegrass state they must live pretty well up to the motto of "live and let live." Under such conditions, too, happiness must be greater than elsewhere.—Astoria News.

Lord have mercy on the others.

GEN. BUCKNER is a man that stands by the people. When he was Governor of the state and the treasury was depleted he put to the state's credit $50,000 of his own money, which the state used free of charge for a considerable time. The tax payers should remember this and return the compliment by defeating Mr. McCreary. The old soldier and statesman has always been the friend of the people and especially of the mountains.

WE DO NOT know how true it is but the rumor is in circulation that "boodle" and lots of it will be used to elect Mr. Lykins, who is said to favor Mr. McCreary for United States senator. And it is just as currently rumored that McCreary is himself putting up the stuff. Can our people afford to tolerate anything of this kind, and will they do it, are questions that can be answered at the primary on Saturday. How do you stand on the situation?

JOHN C. WOOD, of Montgomery, was nominated for Railroad Commissioner in the Third district at Richmond last night. A great deal of wrangling was indulged in during the afternoon. In the evening a colored orator was given the lie by a Covington delegate. The orator rebuked his insulter with the reminder that ladies were present and came out with flying colors. Wood defeated Comingsore on the tenth ballot—Courier Journal.

MR. WOOD has had a hard time getting this nomination and it is a great victory for him. It is an empty honor as Keller (Democrat) is a sure winner.

HON. JAMES B. McCREARY is a sick citizen in politics, and an oily-tongued individual in general, but the remarks he is said to have made about our mountain people should prevent them from casting any vote that would be likely to benefit him in any way. A vote for Mr. Rose will "settle his egg-bread" for the place of United States senator, and if you like your mountain people you should vote by defeating the man who sought to defame them.

HAZEL GREEN will after all have a fair year this, and it is proposed to make it the best in point of entertainment ever yet held. The old directors having refused to hold their fair this year, a new company was last week formed and the title of the association changed to that of the Hazel Green Racing Association. Dr. Floyd Lockhart, of Ezel, was elected president; John W. Rose, of this place, vice president; W. T. Caskey, of this place, treasurer; H. C. Quicksal, also of Hazel Green, secretary.

A COMMITTEE from this county will appear before the Chamber of Commerce in Lexington today (Thursday) for the purpose of discussing the practicability and prospects of the proposed railroad from Mill Creek to Caney, and it is quite probable that some definite plans may be agreed upon. This road would be a God-send to the people of this section, a great feeder to Winchester and Lexington, and a blessing to mankind in general. By all means let it be built, and the sooner the better.

Editor John G. Wood.

In nominating Mr. John C. Wood, of this city, for Railroad Commissioner of the Third District, we think the Republicans have named their strongest man. Mr. Wood since, and even before, his majority, has been a faithful party worker. He is a party man to the extent of being a partisan. He has advocated and emphasized the most extreme measures of his party. For him to know that a man was a Republican or a measure a Republican scheme was all. Mr. Wood needed to make him rally to the support of the man of measure. He has done this, too, not when it was popular, but when he knew he was leading a "forlorn hope," and if he does not receive the full vote of his party, they will prove themselves the veriest ingrates. The very fact that Mr. Wood has such strong claims on his party will only be the more reason why the Democratic vote of the district shall be solidified against him. His bitter partanship will not be forgotten by them when they go to the polls.

Personally Mr. Wood is a courteous affable gentleman, exceedingly popular in his own country; and the hard work he has done for his party certainly entitles him to a degree of popularity in the party ranks of which no other man in the district is more deserving. If by any manner of means, a Republican should slip into the office, we know of none we could wish more with more toleration see fill it than our friend and competitor in business, John C. Wood.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

A Man Throws His Wife From a Train.
PITTSBURG, PENN., July 19.—Harry Pruden, an employee of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, is charged with having made a dastardly attempt to murder his wife early this morning by throwing her from a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Torren's station. Although Mrs. Pruden is badly cut about the head, face and body, her escape from instant death under the wheels of the train is considered almost miraculous. Pruden escaped. Mrs. Pruden was invited to a lawn party. She lives at 135 Second avenue, she and her husband being separated. She was accompanied by a friend. Her husband and a lady friend were at the fete. Late in the evening Pruden met his wife, resurrected some old scores against her, and declared he would have revenge.

When they boarded the train for home Mrs. Pruden had to stand on the platform of a crowded car. She says her husband came out of the car, braced himself against the side of the door and tried to force her out with his foot. Finding he could not accomplish his purpose by that manner he wrenched his hands loose and threw her headlong from the train. She struck on the ballast head first and rolled along on the ground for several feet. She screamed when she fell and thus attracted the attention of the trainmen. The train was immediately stopped. The woman was found lying between the tracks in a dazed condition and bleeding from a half dozen cuts on her head and face.

Now that the schools are all being opened parents should see that the boys and girls step to the top of the believability from now till the end of the session. Then send them to the Hazel Green Academy, where neither time nor pains are spared in their preparation for duties that will shortly devolve upon them as citizens of the country.

Louis & Gus

STRAUSS

THE LEADING

Clothing House

—OF—

KENTUCKY!

Largest Stock,

Lowest Prices.

Best Goods,

When in Lexington do not fail to give us a call.

Louis & Gus Strauss,

Main St., Opposite Phoenix Hotel,
Lexington, Ky.

Majestic Steel Ranges.

Competition Not in the Race.

Our reputation for handling only strictly firstclass goods is proof positive that

THE MAJESTIC STEEL RANGE

is superior to all others.

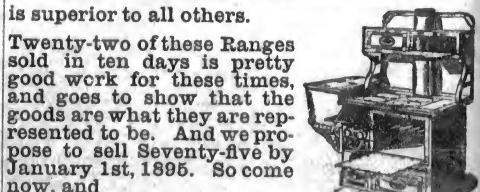

Twenty-two of these Ranges sold in ten days is pretty good work for these times, and goes to show that the goods are what they are represented to be. And we propose to sell Seventy-five by January 1st, 1895. So come now, and

BUY A MAJESTIC & BE HAPPY.

Induce your neighbors to buy one and they will be happy. They are the greatest of COOKING STOVES. Cooking becomes a pleasure instead of drudgery. A full line in stock at all times at prices within the reach of any.

A COOK-BOOK, with description of Range, sent to any address.

W. W. REED,
MT. STERLING, KY.

THE HERALD.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

We are authorized to announce Joseph L. Lyle, of Madison, as a candidate to represent Wolfe and Morgan counties in the next legislature; subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Robert G. Ross, of Lee City, Wolfe county, a candidate to represent the counties of Morgan and Wolfe in the next Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.

We are authorized to announce John S. Wood, of Monroe county, as a candidate for the office of Railroad Commissioner in this, the Third district, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Religious Services.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. fourth Sunday in each month, by the pastor, J. M. Little.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Morning services conducted by W. H. Wood, Prayer-meeting Wednesday night at 8 p.m.; Sabbath-day school at 9:30 a.m.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. first Sunday in each month, by Dr. W. L. West. Praying meeting Thursday evening at 7:15; tea service meeting Thursday evening at 8:30; Union Sabbath-school at 9:30 a.m.

Subscriptions for your county paper.

Do not fail to read the supplement, if you find one in your paper.

WANTED—A good cook, washer and ironer. Good wages. Apply at this office.

Loren Linden began the Frank Rose school last Monday with a good attendance.

Clay Lucy began his school on the 10th and has flattering prospects for the coming session.

Carl Mizel and Berry Pieratt made a trip to West Liberty last week. They came back (?)

Uncle John McQuin, who has been on the sick list for some time, was able to be in town last Saturday.

Who will you vote for? Mr. Lykins, representative of corporations, or Mr. Ross, representative of the people?

Hot weather proves depressing to those whose blood is poor. Such people should drink their blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Prace Weiler, of Mays Lick, a sister of Mrs. Ware, of this place, died at her home last Saturday and was buried Monday.

The heavy rains have brought a good deal in many of the creeks and rivers, and the log men are busy getting ready for the market.

Judge Elisha Kash spent from Friday until Monday canvassing through parts of Morgan county, and he reports a large vote for Mr. Rose.

Mrs. J. B. Thompson, Mrs. S. R. Perkins and Mrs. Green, Brewer, a lady call on Lane, paid our office a pleasant call on Saturday.

Henry Pieratt, our efficient postmaster, has been suffering lately from acute rheumatism. He fears it will necessitate another trip to Hot Springs.

Every man should go to the polls and vote cast Saturday. The man who never votes ought never to grumble at incompetent and venal officials.

Richmond DeBuck begins his school at the Oakley school house next Monday. Richmond is a good teacher and we bespeak for him a successful school.

J. F. Kash and Misses Laura Rawlins, Minnie Day and Maggie Kash, all of Hazel Green, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Day—Jackson Hustler.

Deputy G. B. Swango arrived here Monday evening from Frankfort, and will remain until after the primary on Saturday next, in which he will vote.

Charles Silvey, a popular Louisville man, spent several days in our midwest last week. He is a red hot anti-McClellan and consequently is for Rose.

Grant Lacy is teaching at the Hollie school house and reports a fine beginning. The school will certainly prosper under Mr. Lacy's management.

Howard DeBuck begins his school at Long Branch next Monday. Howard is an old and experienced teacher, and will doubtless render the best of satisfaction.

Will Perry, ("Farmer Bill,") of West Liberty, who is now traveling for the French grocery house of Paris, Kentucky, made THE HERALD office a short visit Tuesday.

Clay Lucy began his school at the Hollie school house last Monday. Lucy is a good time student of the High School Academy, and is a most excellent teacher.

Mrs. Ellen Swango, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Mt. St. Louis for some time, returned home Monday accompanied by her brother-in-law, G. B. Swango.

Mrs. H. F. Pieratt and her two little sons, Edgar and Tom, returned from two weeks' visit with friends and relatives at St. Helens and Jackson. They report an enjoyable time.

Edgar Kash will begin his school at the Gilpin school house next Monday. Every boy and girl in the neighborhood avail themselves of the splendid opportunity of getting an education.

Mr. Bras, of New York, who has charge of the new road to be built from the Lexington and Eastern road through Wolfe and Morgan counties, says the road will be built without doubt.—Winchester Democrat.

WIKONIA, KY., July 19, 1895.—Dear Sir: Please announce in THE HERALD that I will begin the Powell County teachers' Institute Monday, August 5, at Stanton. Yours, W. H. Cord.

The postmaster at Stillwater notified us that THE HERALD did not "turn up" at his town. We are sorry such is the case. They were promptly mailed and should have been delivered at the regular time.

Mrs. Anna Jones and family, of Mt. St. Louis visited the family of J. M. Pieratt, at Ezel, last week. She is now with her sister, Mrs. J. T. Day, of this place, and will pay her friends and relatives a protracted visit.

Will Pieratt, who has been a salesman for some time or two or three years now, has begun the counter of H. F. Pieratt, of our town. Besides being energetic business he is most courteous and polite and we gladly welcome him to our midst.

Miss Florence Quickwell began her school at the Harve West school house, and received much respect and most encouragement for the coming session. Miss Florence is an excellent teacher and we believe she will be a good hostess.

Clay Lucy began his school on the 10th and has flattering prospects for the coming session.

Carl Mizel and Berry Pieratt made a trip to West Liberty last week. They came back (?)

Uncle John McQuin, who has been on the sick list for some time, was able to be in town last Saturday.

Who will you vote for? Mr. Lykins, representative of corporations, or Mr. Ross, representative of the people?

Hot weather proves depressing to those whose blood is poor. Such people should drink their blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Prace Weiler, of Mays Lick, a sister of Mrs. Ware, of this place, died at her home last Saturday and was buried Monday.

The heavy rains have brought a good deal in many of the creeks and rivers, and the log men are busy getting ready for the market.

Judge Elisha Kash spent from Friday until Monday canvassing through parts of Morgan county, and he reports a large vote for Mr. Rose.

Mrs. J. B. Thompson, Mrs. S. R. Perkins and Mrs. Green, Brewer, a lady call on Lane, paid our office a pleasant call on Saturday.

Henry Pieratt, our efficient postmaster, has been suffering lately from acute rheumatism. He fears it will necessitate another trip to Hot Springs.

Every man should go to the polls and vote cast Saturday. The man who never votes ought never to grumble at incompetent and venal officials.

Richmond DeBuck begins his school at the Oakley school house next Monday. Richmond is a good teacher and we bespeak for him a successful school.

J. F. Kash and Misses Laura Rawlins, Minnie Day and Maggie Kash, all of Hazel Green, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Day—Jackson Hustler.

Deputy G. B. Swango arrived here Monday evening from Frankfort, and will remain until after the primary on Saturday next, in which he will vote.

Charles Silvey, a popular Louisville man, spent several days in our midwest last week. He is a red hot anti-McClellan and consequently is for Rose.

Grant Lacy is teaching at the Hollie school house and reports a fine beginning. The school will certainly prosper under Mr. Lacy's management.

Howard DeBuck begins his school at Long Branch next Monday. Howard is an old and experienced teacher, and will doubtless render the best of satisfaction.

Will Perry, ("Farmer Bill,") of West Liberty, who is now traveling for the French grocery house of Paris, Kentucky, made THE HERALD office a short visit Tuesday.

Clay Lucy began his school at the Hollie school house last Monday. Lucy is a good time student of the High School Academy, and is a most excellent teacher.

Mrs. Ellen Swango, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Mt. St. Louis for some time, returned home Monday accompanied by her brother-in-law, G. B. Swango.

Just run. Charleston harbor, with its Mole, Sunfish, and full of interest and beauty, is New York Harbor, you know, ranks among the finest in the world. Hope to see you soon in Wolfe. Truly yours, L. C. DEMAREE.

We are agreeably surprised in the amount of the public school fund this year. The newspaper has paid off in various sums from $2.40 to $2.75. The assessment last fall fell off several million dollars and it was thought the per capita would also fall off, and conservative estimates placed it about $2.00. Superintendents and estimators selected will be glad to know this estimate is entirely correct. The official figures place it at $2.80. To this will be added interest on the county bond due from the State which in Clark County amounts to about two cents. From the total must be deducted a sufficient sum from all the larger districts to bring the total fund up to $3.00. Add to the amount of money which they would receive if they possessed that number. This is in order to give every district at least five months school. For the past few years this has taken about three cents per pupil, reducing the per capita to about one cent less than the State per capita. If this holds good this year the next sum will be $2.79 per pupil. Winchester Democrat.

On the 13th inst. Bethel Congregational Sabbath-school entertained about six hundred persons at a social gathering in the pine grove near Bethel church. Six Sabbath-schools were represented. The schools marched into the grove with songs on their lips and gladness in their hearts, after which Rev. J. W. Doane gave an address of welcome to the school. A social and religious intercourse at dinner we were addressed by Robert Cecil and Richmond Holton. Sandfield and Point Union schools favored us with some good singing. Rev. Doane then gave a short address and held an old-fashioned experience meeting, in which great power was manifested. All voted the celebration an entire success.

H. H. STAMPER.

Jim McCue, with Trimble Bros., grocers of Mt. Sterling; Bill McCullough, with Sturt, Henley & Co., grocers, of Cincinnati; Bill Manker, with H. Crim, grocer, of Cambridge; and Dr. Jerry, the well-known eye doctor, of Danville, Kentucky, were all registered at the Hotel House on Tuesday. To cap the climax, Judge Davis, representing Bitman, Bros. & Co., clothiers, of Cincinnati, Ohio, drove in about 4 o'clock, p. m. and registered at the same house. One would suppose that a gathering like this could not have anything to eat or wear, but such is not the case, as we were able to testify to by the said quietet, who ate of the edibles at the said hotel.

One of the sweetest presents yet received by the editor and his better half was a basket of dried fruit brought through from Monterey, California, by Mrs. Newton Swetnam, of that place. Mrs. Swetnam was formerly Miss Jane Lawson, daughter of William Lawson, near Maytown, but she had for many years lived in the "golden state" of the Pacific slope, where she has placed her home in a very lonely location consisting of her husband and nine children. She is a very interesting conversationalist, and can entertain any number of her friends with accounts of her western home and the scenery, etc., surrounding the same. In addition to the honey presented us she also gave our better half a delicious dried peach which she found on the beach of the Pacific. The poetry published elsewhere in reference to the apiary was written by a daughter of Mrs. Swetnam, and is said to be true to life.

Religious.

Rev. Marion Creston preached at Laurel Sunday. We failed to get the names of other preachers. +

Rev. Dunagan preached to a good congregation at the bridge school-house on Stillwater, last Sunday.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt began a meeting at the Blackwater school-house below Laurel, last Friday. He had a fine meeting and much interest was manifested.

Rev. H. H. Taylor will preach at Oakdale, in Breckinridge county, the fourth Sunday in this month. He will preach at Holly, Wolfe county, the first Sunday in next month.

Rev. H. H. Taylor preached to a large congregation at the Hurst school-house, on Stillwater, Sunday. Six were baptized. He was aided by Bros. Tyra, Roberts, Crum and Collier.

Great preparations are being made by the Earl people for the big August meeting to be held by Elder Howard. It will probably be the largest religious assembly ever held in the mountains.

Elder L. S. Denton, of Beattyville, who evangelist for the Christian church, has been preaching in Rowan county for some time. Elder J. A. Howard, well known to the readers of THE HERALD, arranged for a joint discussion to be held at Morehead. When the time came for the debate Bro. Denton was not present. Elder Howard and those who think with him are jubilant over the result. Elder Denton has not yet explained the cause of his absence.

NEW YORK, July 18, 1895.—Dear Bro. Cooper—I am coming to Kentucky in a few days—soon as I take in the sights of the metropolis, who you may cancel my name from your subscription book for the time being. Come from Jacksonville, Florida, via Charleston, S. C., by steamship "Cherokee," and had a most pleasant

Carrie Owens King

Save the Children

By Purifying Their Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Pure

"Blood, Curer of all Diseases."

"My experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla has been very effective. My little girl, five years old, had for four years a bad skin disease. Her arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sore, scaly, yellowish matter. She would scratch the surface so much it would give relief, and then open the sore.

Two Bottles of Hood's

Sarsaparilla caused the eruptions to heal and the scales peeled off, after which the skin became soft and smooth. As a family medicine we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal and I recommend it." W. L. Kline, Bldg. Dept., Tel.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Hood's Pill Cures the best family cathartics gentle and effective. Try a box.

Hooping Cough.

There is no danger from this disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given. It liquefies the tough mucus and aids its expectoration. It also lessens the severity and frequency of paroxysms of coughing, and insures a speedy recovery. There is not the least danger in giving the remedy to children or babies, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale by John M. Rose.

JUDGE AMOS DAVIS,
WEST LIBERTY, KY.

—WITH—

Bettman, Bloom & Co.,

MANUFACTURERS OF CLOTHING.

60 West Penru Street, CINCINNATI.

The trade of Kentucky merchants sold and satisfaction guaranteed.

JOHN M. ROSE,
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

the only firm in the town which handles the judy celebrated

C. P. TRACY & CO.,
PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.

When you want the BEST footwear give him a call.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC

$2—RING—$2

A Speedy and Permanent Cure

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout, Lumbar and all other diseases where a general warming, quickening, strengthening and equalization of the circulation is required. It will last for years giving health, strength and a comfortable sensation in wearing it. No waiting a long time for results. It acts quickly, generally the first week, more frequently the first day, and sometimes even in the first hour its curative powers are felt. It is inexpensive, harmless in operation, the simplest application, requiring neither special apparatus, incision, or stitching. Though marvelous in the results it has achieved, its seeming simplicity has the effect of causing many to doubt its virtues. But in many instances you will feel a very pleasant sensation the moment it is properly adjusted to your little finger. In proof of this remarkable statement I will refer you to the following most estimable ladies and gentlemen:

J. W. Sparks, W. H. Phillips,

Wm. Handy, E. Schneider,

Mr. Morton Funk, Mrs. G. B. Taylor,

Sam Smith, J. W. Carroll,

Ben Spears, David Arnold.

And a hundred others if necessary.

Many of these would not take $1,000 for their ring and are compelled to do without one. They cost only $2. No other ring will fit them. No medicine, no bad taste in your mouth, but a nice ring, pleasing sensation, and relief of an excruciating pain. Old folks become young and vigorous.

E. M. HILTON,
Nicholasville, Ky.

Lexington and Eastern Railway.

Time Table in Effect April 14th, 1895.

J. D. LIVINGSTON, CHAS. SCOTT,
V. P. & Gen. Manager. Gen. Pass. Agent

WEST BOUND.

STATIONS.	No. 1. Daily.	No. 2. Daily.	No. 3. Daily, ex. Sunday.
Lexington	10 10 30 am	10 10 2 am	3 35 pm
Avon	11 11 30 am	9 45 am	3 15 pm
Winchester	20 20 30 am	7 30 am	8 15 pm
Fairlie	27 27 30 am	7 29 am	8 35 pm
Indiana Fields	33 33 30 am	7 10 am	9 10 am
Clay City	40 40 30 am	7 11 am	12 40 pm
Stanton	44 44 30 am	8 42 am	11 40 pm
Richmond	48 48 30 am	8 51 am	12 50 pm
Dundee	55 55 8 am	10 17 am	1 15 pm
Natural Bridge	55 55 8 am	10 17 am	1 15 pm
Torrent	67 67 34 am	9 35 am	10 40 pm
Three Forks City	70 70 34 am	9 45 am	10 45 pm
Athol	82 82 7 am	7 02 am	7 18 am
Elkhorn	90 90 6 am	6 20 am	6 30 pm
Jackson	94 94 6 am	6 30 pm	6 00 am

EAST BOUND.

STATIONS.	No. 1. Daily.	No. 2. Daily.	No. 3. Daily, ex. Sunday.
Lexington	0 2 30 pm	6 30 am	6 30 am
Avon	10 10 2 am	7 30 am	7 30 am
Winchester	20 20 3 am	8 15 am	8 15 am
Fairlie	27 27 3 am	8 29 am	8 35 pm
Indiana Fields	33 33 3 am	9 46 am	9 10 am
Clay City	40 40 3 am	10 1 am	12 10 pm
Stanton	44 44 3 am	10 15 am	12 41 pm
Richmond	48 48 3 am	10 45 am	1 15 pm
Dundee	55 55 4 am	1 05 pm	2 00 pm
Natural Bridge	67 67 4 am	2 09 pm	3 05 pm
Torrent	70 70 4 am	2 29 pm	3 25 pm
Elkhorn	82 82 5 am	3 05 pm	4 05 pm
Jackson	90 90 6 am	6 22 pm	7 00 pm

Do You Wear Pants?

IF SO, WEAR ONLY

"THE LION BRAND"

MANUFACTURED BY

KENTUCKY JEANS CLOTHING CO.,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Every pair warranted.

Victor + Bogaert,

Manufacturing  Jeweler,

17 E. Short Street, LEXINGTON, KY.

Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry.

Reliable Goods, Fair Dealing and Bottom Prices. All Goods and Work Guaranteed.

I. DINGFELDER,

WITH

J. M. ROBINSON, MORTON & CO.

Importers and Jobbers of

DRY : GOODS : AND : NOTIONS,

Nos. 537, 539 and 541—

West Main Street, LOUISVILLE, KY.

TO MERCHANTS ONLY.

W. R. NUNLEY, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

REPRESENTING

HARBISON + GATHRIGHT,

LOUISVILLE, KY. Manufacturers of KEN-

UCKY RUBBER and all other RUBBERS.

BIGGET, Breakfast and all kinds of Harness.

The New Horse Stable Color.

The Green Horse Stable Color.

As well as everything a horse wears.

I am getting ready to start after spring order. Will reach you in plenty of time.

However, if you have any special time to buy write me at Mt. Sterling. My trade is big. I want it bigger. Buy from me and we'll both be happy.

W. R. NUNLEY.

MOST IN QUANTITY. BEST IN QUALITY.

WORMS!

WHITE'S CREAM

VERMIFUGE

FOR 20 YEARS

Has led all our Remedies.

EVERY BOTTLE GUARANTEED.

GOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

RECOMMENDED BY DRUGGISTS.

NO FOOL FRIENDS.

Came Along and Knocked a Chicago Man's
Summer Plans in the Head.
(Chicago Times-Herald.)

"Chesterfield, dear," remarked young Mrs. Bittersweet, "I am really afraid that I must go away this summer; I hate to leave you, but I need a change badly."

Mrs. Bittersweet held his paper before his face as he replied:

"I suppose Mrs. Brownsmith is going."

"Of course she is; she says she hates it, but she just has to go. When her husband is left alone he gives so many stag parties that the parlor curtains and carpets are sure to be ruined. You see she wants new ones this year anyhow and he won't give them to her under any other circumstances without grumbling; in that way she will get the new things and be able to do all the grumbling herself."

"H'm, stag parties are—"

"Very stupid affairs. I shall just shut up the parlor and all but a few of the other rooms; I don't intend to go off to the country and leave my poor boy to be bothered by housekeeping cares while I am away."

"Very thoughtful, I'm sure. Fact is, I shall be busy at the office night and day and shall have no time for parties."

"I don't see how I can have the heart to leave you, after all. I'm sure I don't want to go at all, tho' everybody I know will be out of town, but the doctor says I need a change, and I'm sure that I have lost at least two pounds since I was weighed in January."

"Oh, if the doctor thinks—"

"Yes; I suppose I shall have to go since you insist so upon it, but I shall have to be on the go every minute in the day lost I get home sick."

"Of course, I shall miss you awfully."

"Oh, I'll stay if you wish, but I fear that I shall be poor company—you won't mind if the heat makes me a bit dull and cross, will you?"

"Oh, I wouldn't think of asking such a sacrifice; your health demands it and you must go."

"Yes, I wouldn't so much mind dying myself but the idea of leaving you with no one to—select your ties and watch that you don't smoke too many cigars is terrible."

"How thoughtful of you. But I thought you intended to make a shopping trip today?"

"Well it seemed, hardly worth while; you seemed so opposed to the idea of my going away when I spoke of it last week."

"Oh, but the doctor hadn't ordered it then."

True. And it didn't seem worth while to get a lot of pretty new things when I might be too weak to get out and wear them, and if I were to die it would be terrible for you to see them."

"So you didn't go?"

"No; I just took a twenty-five mile spin on my wheel, instead."

"You must begin your preparations at once; of course, I shall be miserable without you—"

"And I without you. I shall dance a great deal; nothing keeps off the blues so effectively as dancing, and I want to be able to write you long, cheerful letters to brighten your solitude."

"Yes, I shall be lonely, indeed, but—"

"Hello, Bittersweet," called a jovial voice from the pavement below, "my wife has just got off to the seashore, and as you said yours would be out shopping all day I ran over to tell you all about our summer bachelors' club, of which we intend to make you president. I just saw Doc, and he says he saw your wife this morning and prescribed a change of air, as you requested. Say, old man, you don't look well yourself; what's the matter?"

The only reply was a low groan, and then Mrs. Bittersweet's voice rose loud and clear in the next room. She was talking through the telephone, and this is what she said:

"Is this you, Emily? Yes, well, I just called you up to say that I have decided not to go away at all this summer. My husband needs me at home, I find, and we can spend all our evenings on dear mamma's veranda, anyhow; it is always cool there."

Subscribe and send in job work.

"It's a great pity," said the convicted burglar to his lawyer, "that you couldn't have made that closing speech of yours at the opening of the case."

"I don't see that it would have made any difference."

"It would, though. Then the jury would have been asleep when the evidence came in and I'd have stood some show."

Wife—it's the little things that worry.

Husband—Especially when there are six of them.

"Cannot we become one?" he pleaded earnestly.

"That depends," replied the new girl. "Which one?"

"Don't Tobacco Spit or Smoke Your Life Away."

The truthful, startling title of a book about No-to-bac, the only harmless, guaranteed tobacco habit cure. If you want to quit and can't, use "No-to-bac." Braces up nicotine-stimulated nerves, eliminates nicotine poisons, makes weak men gain strength, weight and vigor. Positive cure or money refunded. Sold by all druggists. Book at drugstore, or mailed free. Address the Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago ofice, 45 Randolph street; New York, 10 Spruce street.

WHEN YOU WANT A WATCH,

Or anything in the Jewelry line, let me know it. I will furnish you goods worth the money, and YOU will have GUARANTEE at home where you can use it.

Respectfully,

T. F. CARR,
THE JEWELER,
EZEL, Morgan County, Ky.

In Poor Health

means so much more than you imagine—serious and fatal diseases result from trifling ailments neglected.

Don't play with Nature's greatest gift—health.

If you are feeling unwell and generally exhausted, have a Bitter and can't work, try the most reliable strengthening medicine—Brown's Iron Bitters. A few bottles come from the very first distilleries, and a pleasant taste.

Brown's Iron Bitters

Dyspepsia, Kidney and Liver Troubles, Constipation, Bad Blood Malaria, Nervous Complaints.

Get only the genuine—it has crossed red lines on the bottle and is the only safe substitute. On receipt of two 25 cent stamps will send set of ten Beautiful World's Fair Awards.

BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

SEND YOUR SHIRT

TO
The Home Steam Laundry,
MT. STERLING, KY.

Collars, Cuffs, Underwear, &c. In fact, all your clothing that you wish to have laundered in a superior manner.

J. W. CRAVEN, Agent, Hazel Green, Ky.

J. H. PIERATT,
Livery, Feed and Sale Stable,
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

 Double and Single Bids and Bidders Daries conveyed to him at polat on reasonable terms.

I will also attend to all calls for engineering, and solicit business of this kind. Respectfully, JOHN H. PIERATT.

Subscribe and send in job work.

LIGHTNING HOT DROPS

CURES
Colds, Cramps, Diarrhea, Flux, Colic, Measles, Nausea, Changes of Water, Etc.

BREAKS UP A COLD.

SOLD EVERYWHERE—25 AND 50¢ PER BOTTLE. NO RELIEF, NO PAY.

50¢ size contains two and a half times as much as 25¢ bottle.

HERB MEDICINE CO., SPRINGFIELD, O.

MAIN STREET, WINCHESTER, KY.

HEALS
Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Scars, Sores, Ulcers of Animals and Birds, Etc. Tastes Good. Smells Good.

FLOYD DAY, President.

WINCHESTER, KY.

N. H. WITHERSPUR, President.

R. D. HUNTER, Vice President.

Paid up Capital, $200,000. Surplus, $60,000.

This Bank solicits the accounts of all classes of business and individuals generally throughout Eastern Kentucky and offers its customers every facility and the most liberal terms with the legitimate banking.

Clay City National Bank

CLAY CITY, KY.

Capital.....$50,000.

FLOYD DAY, President.

J. F. FOX, Cashier.

No Bank in Eastern Kentucky has better facilities for keeping accounts. Managed entirely by home who know who and who are most reliable.

Money to loan on reasonable terms.

Call on us.

Clark County National Bank

MAIN STREET, WINCHESTER, KY.

JOHN W. BEAN, President.

E. F. CURTIS, Cashier.

Capital, $200,000. Surplus, $100,000.

Undivided Profits, $35,000.

Organized 1865, being the oldest bank in the county. Collections made on all persons and your business solicited.

TRADERS DEPOSIT BANK

MT. STERLING, KY.

Capital, $200,000. Surplus, $30,000.

J. M. BIGSTAFF, President.

G. L. KIRKPATRICK, Vice President.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

We respectfully solicit the business of merchants, farmers, traders and business generally throughout Eastern Kentucky. Give us a chance to earn your confidence. Call on us.

W. W. THOMPSON, Cashier.

COMBS HOUSE, CAMPTON, KY.

J. B. HOLLON, Proprietor.

The patronage of the traveling public is respectfully solicited. Take the best every attention to the comfort of guests.

ST. JAMES HOTEL,

Fourth Street, near Main, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

GEO. WEERE'S SONS, Managers.

The patronage of Wolfe and Morgan counties solicited.

CLARENDON HOTEL,

Cor. Short and Limehouse Streets, LEXINGTON, KY.

JOS. L. WILKIN, Proprietor.

This house is only 100 yards from Lexington and Eastern (K. Y.) depots, in class, and rates reasonable. The patrons of the mountain people is solicited, and the best treatment assured.

D. R. J. F. LOCKHART, DENTIST,

EZEL, KY.

A. FLOYD BYRD, Campton, KY.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

MT. STERLING, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

T. C. JOHNSON, Hazel Green, KY.

JOHNSON & SWAGG, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Will practice in the Wolfe county and eastern courts. Collections promptly made and abstracts of title furnished on application.

A. HOWARD STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

T. C. JOHNSON, Hazel Green, KY.

JOHNSON & SWAGG, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Will practice in the Wolfe county and eastern courts. Collections promptly made and abstracts of title furnished on application.

EDWARD STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

Will practice in the courts of Wolfe and adjoining counties. All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM H. STAMPER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, CAMPTON, KY.

MRS. HETTY GREEN.

TRUE PICTURE OF AMERICA'S RICHEST WOMAN.

Neither Ugly Nor a Miser—Will Tolerate Neither a Thief Nor a Fool.

Mrs. Hetty Green, the remarkable woman who handles with consummate skill a fortune of from twenty to thirty millions of dollars, mostly made by herself, has most interesting personality.

Her striking characteristics are well shown by the following extracts from an interview with her published in the New York Advertiser. After drawing a close pen picture the writer says:

"Then I asked her a question that asked of every successful person and is never answered in the same way twice. It is a silly, impudent question, anyhow, but you asked it: 'To what do you owe your success?'

Mrs. Green was silent for a moment and then she said:

"It is a peculiar question, and I think I can answer it. My father was a business man—a good business man."

"When I was a girl, good bit younger than I am now, he heard him lay down these principles:

"If you owe a man a dollar pay him a dollar—a good dollar—on the day you promised to pay him, and don't try to pay him anything less. Give him the full dollar. Then he will know that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to me more than anything else, I attribute any degree of success that has come to me."

"There are two things that I can't afford nor will abide!"

"A fool or a thief. They may say about me, but they will not say about me that you are neither a thief nor a fool."

"If you find a man in your employ dishonest get rid of him quickly, if you can, but let him go."

This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men; it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.

quick response. "They do not get the same treatment, at least from counsel. I have nothing to say against our Judges. They do their duty. But some of the laws that bind them are old and antiquated and should have been abolished long ago. They discriminate against women who have brains enough to mark out their own line of conduct in business. They hamper one at every turn."

And the woman in politics, Mrs. Green?" I asked.

"She is better out of than in politics," was the reply. "She is better in her own home with her own children."

"Politics may sometimes help a man in business, but very seldom a woman. Men who run for office get in love with it. I do not quarrel with the women who want to vote, but I do not want to vote myself."

"Another thing I will say, I have never needed a vote in order to protect myself. I have handled my large interests largely myself, but not at all times. Yet they have not suffered. I have not bought politicians. I had no need to. Remember, as I said before, I am not against a woman voting, if she wants to. I don't want to. Politicians, if you please to call them so, who study the interests of their own neighborhoods, find that railroad or other interests are the interests of their friends, and it is not at all necessary to buy them."

This is not a literal quotation. It is a condensation, but a fair one.

Of course, it was impossible to refrain from asking Mrs. Green what she thought of the "new woman," and her answer was delightfully naive.

"The 'new woman' she said, really, really, I haven't thought of her at all. I am an old woman of the old sort, you know."

The new woman is getting some hard knocks these days, and this is not the softest of them. Then Mrs. Green turned again to a subject on which she has touched briefly. It concerned women and their rights.

"I have told you before," she said, "that I am no politician and have no desire to vote. You asked me just now if I thought that the condition of woman is better now than it was."

"I answer that it is, almost beyond measure, and it is due to honest, earnest women who have worked for their sisters and helped them. If my life has not been cast in these lines it is because my duty has lain otherwise."

"And the rich, Mrs. Green?" I asked, "have they, too, their wrongs, as the poor have?"

"I have practically answered that question before," was the reply.

"I spoke to you of the manner in which women are bullied and brow-beaten in court merely because they are women, because lawyers believe they have not the nerve to stand cross-examination. Nerve! Thank gracious! I have still got it."

"A woman shrinks from going into court where she knows an acute lawyer is going to practically put her on a mental gridiron. She is held and bound down by certain forms of court etiquette. A lawyer may apply what is useful. You may perhaps thought that I hoard my money and count over and gloat at it o' nights. Well, I don't."

"Every man, and for that matter every woman, ought to work and get paid for the work in accordance with its value. Now, you are used of me as a mean, grasping old woman. You have never let me give away vast sums of charity. You have not seen name at the head of donations for this or that free of charge."

"I will tell you what I did do, though," Mrs. Green went on. "I built houses in Chicago, blocks of them at a time, when men wanted them. I paid good wages, and the pay was always there on payment. In the business managing of affairs and in working in my own affairs I employ a great many men—yes, and women, too, take a good deal of money to these, but they are paid, each of them, as much as they are worth within my knowledge."

"And do you know," she said, "that I work harder than any of them?"

"But, then, you have the largest money, Mrs. Green," I ventured.

"Well! Well! Have it so," she said, with a smile. "But I think you are worth it."

It was incontrovertible! Then Mrs. Green passed to another and different subject upon which she spoke with some warmth and vigor.

"I have spoken to you of art, have I not? Some of the persons who write and talk of me do not think that I know anything of art. Yet I have seen something of it, and have known more than one great artist. I have seen art as it is in Paris, in London, in Munich, in Holland, and there is some real art there as you do not know. For that matter, there is real art in America, if it is young. It will grow, if properly encouraged. Copley was an American and an artist. But I do not wish to rhymesodize."

Mrs. Green went on to say that she had known—some of them personally—most of the poets of the past generation—Bryant, Longfellow and the rest. What is more, she read them. It may, perhaps, be interesting to you to know that Mrs. Green does not care overmuch for Miss Harridan and her "Ships That Pass in the Night," with its impossible hero and heroine. Nor has Mrs. Green the Ibsen fad. She is not of that sort.

She is—well, she is "Hetty" Green. That covers the whole matter. If I wrote a volume I could say no more.

A Pioneer's Recommendation.
J. W. Venable, of Downey, a pioneer of Los Angeles County, Cal., says: "Whenever I am troubled with a pain in the stomach or with diarrhea I use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. I have used it for years, know it to be a reliable remedy, and recommend it to everyone." For sale by J. M. Rose.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn here that he has one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous membranes of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, by building up the constitution and assuring nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testiment of F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Dr. A. F. JENNINGS writes: "Cancer compels me to say that the efficacy of Fennel's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic in and with such promptitude for cures anything that I have ever met with or known during my long practice in this country has not operated on the causes of these diseases, hence they yield no necessity." A. F. JENNINGS, M. D.

CURING SO MANY DISEASES

Dr. Fennel's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic never fails.

It is a Sarsaparilla-Mandrake-Prince's Pine Alterative, Nerve Tonic and Restorative Compound.

Cures biliousness, headaches, constipation, dyspepsia, irritability, sleeplessness, the blues," swollen glands.

All blood diseases, skin disease, scrofulosis, diphtheria, "skin and achy," "tired," stomach and bowel disorders, blisters, pimples, rashes, syphilis, worms and other vermin.

Impairment of nerves, offensive breath.

It does these great cures because it physics from the blood, liver and bowels all the impurities, "ashes and debris" as it were.

Without weakening but all the while strengthening instead.

It causes the Liver to throw off its Bile. It cleans out the entire alimentary canal, stomach and bowels alike, ridding them of all effete, offensive and slimy mucus, worms and other vermin.

Restoring sleep, appetite, flesh, strength, comfort, freshness and bloom—in a word, health.

Including self-poise to the nervous system, and both sweetness of breath and disposition.

It is speedy in its action, improvement beginning as soon as the first dose is swallowed.

And as certain as the law of gravitation.

Sample Free. Satisfaction guaranteed. Sample Free.

Mother—One-fourth of all the children born die within the first year. Save your child by keeping it healthy and healthy by the use of Dr. Fennel's Benzonatate, the best child laxative and corrective known.

Recording cases of severe grave and complicated than ever hitherto successfully treated by medicine.

Satisfaction guaranteed. Sample Free.

Dr. Fennel's Worm Syrup—Brought to you from our child, Mrs. Fennel, Elida, Ky.

Dr. Fennel's Family Sal-Rheum Ointment.

For sores and eruptions, piles, sores, ulcers,

NEIGHBORING NOTES.

Items of News Gathered by Busy Herald Correspondents

That Its Readers May Be Posted on What Is Being Said and Done.

A RESUME OF THE PAST WEEK

If there's a hole in a' your coat,
I'll sew ye tent it;
A chit's amang you taking notes,
And faith he'll print it."

WOLFE COUNTY.

Campion Currency.

Bro. May, of Nicholas County, preached an interesting sermon at the M. E. church Sunday night to a large and appreciative audience.

Dr. S. G. Spradling, of Kansas, was in town a few days last week, and informed us that he had located at Glencoe to practice his profession.

Robert G. Rose, of Lee City, candidate for the legislature, was in our midst last week, and many were the smiles that decked his honest countenance on learning that his prospects were so promising in this neck of the woods. Mr. Rose is not an entire stranger in this neighborhood, neither is he desirous of friends, as will be proven beyond a question, doubtless, on the 27th. Of course his opponent is a very popular man, a Nancy Hanks sort of fellow; but after all he is, in our opinion, a "heatable" sort of fellow, that is capable of getting beat. We are ready to admit that Mr. Rose is not a scheming politician or trickster, and that he has never tried to catch the world to frown upon him. He would not sit still and let his escutcheon. Do those traits disqualify a man to occupy a place in the Kentucky legislature? No. We want a man to represent us who is solid, who cannot be "wooded by each agnan wind," whose honesty and faithfulness are unquestionable, whose interests are identical with the people's interest, and not to our own detriment. A man that can cast his vote for senator for the man that will be most acceptable to his constituents and to himself. This man, dear readers, is Robert G. Rose, of Lee City. See him run.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Caney Cullings.

Jerry Stacy, who was reported some time ago as having fever, is up again.

The corps of railroad engineers got the road located to Walnut Grove last week.

Sanford Day and family were visiting their parents Saturday and Sunday last.

Mariion Gevedon, while husking corn in his crib one day last week, was bitten by a copperhead snake and is suffering very much, but is some better at this writing.

J. F. Gevedon and family and Josie Gevedon and wife, Miss Mary Gevedon, Malone Lykins and J. P. Haney were guests of R. E. and J. T. Caillard last Saturday and Sunday.

David Lewis, the noted thrasher of Morgan, is on Caney threshing. Wheat is extra good here. R. D. and J. T. Caillard sowed 11 bushels and threshed out 140 bushels. Can any of you beat that?

Easel Evolutions.

G. W. Good will teach the Flat Gap school near this place.

Mrs. Sarah Woolery and daughter Myrtle are on the sick list.

Mrs. Clara Peters has just returned from a protracted visit at Mt. Sterling.

Hon. John E. Cooper, H. C. Turner and James H. Swango were in town last week.

J. S. Nickell and wife are visiting his daughter Minnie at Weston, West Virginia.

Mrs. Thomas Jones and family, of Mt. Sterling, who were here last week, are now visiting at Hazel Green.

William Brooks, while running a horse near Wellington, in Monroe county, was thrown and badly hurt about the head.

Elders H. F. Dunagan and W. T. Hall are conducting a meeting in the Carlisle settlement, north of East. They will preach here Sunday night, July 28.

Excursions to Natural Bridge.

The Lexington & Eastern railway will run excursions from both ends of the line on Wednesday, August 7, to Natural Bridge. There will be two bands of music. Trost's celebrated band of sixteen pieces has been secured for the occasion. Two grand concerts will be given, one at 1 p.m. and another at 8 o'clock. Tickets will be made from all stations to Natural Bridge, and every one will have an opportunity to enjoy the fine music. Admittance coupon will be attached to all tickets, which will include the privilege of the dancing pavilion at the grounds.

Some persons never look over the fence that divides their own little affairs from all creation; and consequently they have no opportunity to be affected by the new remedy known as Barm's Tonie Liver Pills (and Pellets). There mark a new era in the cure of sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, etc. Ask your druggist about this. You can receive a three weeks' treatment for 25c, including both the pills and the tonic pellets. Try a free sample.

THE WOODSIDE APIARY.

BY LOU SWETMAN.

It nestles close in the mountain's breast,
A garden of sunbeams on the hill,
Where golden sunbeams meet,
To smile on the flowers and hearts.
Beside its southern edge a spring,
While sparkling on its way,
Is crooning softly to the bees,
That sip the crystal spray.

The apricots turn, day by day,
A deeper shade of gold,
The peach blossoms will soon disclose,
The apple joys be told.

The soft strawberries droop their heads,
Their sweet breath borne away,
And wearing yet a deeper blush,
That slip an easy prey.

The navy beans are turning brown—
Upon each ripened peach;
A shade of black and purple, now
Replace their scarlet glow.

And downy damask checks are seen
Upon each ripe peach;
The fairest, as with human souls,
Are those beyond our reach.

Beets, radishes, turnips, cabbages,
And smooth cherry trees,
With fruit jet black and ruby red,
The vision sure to please.

The fragrant breath of mignonette
Comes pulsing through the air,
The perfume of the flower woods
That whining sephrys bear.

But sweetest yet of all the sweets!
Not matter where you roam,
Is treasured there in every hive
In snowy waxen comb.

From purest nectar of the sage
That grows on the mountain hill,
Many little workers stored
With energetic will.

I stoop to watch them passing in
And out, and soul could wake like theirs'
To duties of today.

From early morn till evening's shade,
To meet the sun as she goes,
To gather in their harvests sweet
With melody I love.

When he tends the mignonette
And prunes the fruitful trees,
Who tills the verdant garden patch
And works among the bees.

Has passed beyond this world, of ours,
The world will take his place!
To tend the Woodside Apiary!

His daily toil to face!

July 15, 1894.

The Carlisle Mercury has relegated the discussion of finance to the rear and gone in to win after this fashion:

How will—
Hardin and Harmony
And Tyler, too;
Ford and Fortune,
And Norman do?

++

What say you—
Swanson and Hendrick,
Hale, Thomas, and Nall,
Who will lead the grand march,
At the election this fall?

++

They are the big nine—
Our friends should remember,
Who will march into victory
The coming November.

They come from the North,
South, East and West,
And rank among men
Are none finer.

They are speakers and writers—
First-class on the "hustle"—
And will give their opponents
A genuine fusillade.

With your own courage—
And job in the fracas—
When they open the fun!

Hints to Letter Writers.
First give your town, county, state and date of letter.

Then write name, town and state of him to whom you are writing.

Never write to the same person
Business letters should always be brief and answered promptly.

Letters sent by hand should be left unsealed.

Let all your letters be civil in tone.

Never write an anonymous letter. It is cowardly.

Always enclose a stamp in letters asking for information.

Make your sentences short and use the dictionary freely.

Never write with a led pencil; use black ink.

Do not introduce social matters in letters of business.

When writing for publication, write one side only. If for your paper will usually find its way to the printer.

Read your letter carefully when finished and see that nothing is omitted.

Then sign your name in full.

Make the address on the envelope legible,
giving town, county and state.

Put the stamp on the right hand upper corner, seal the letter and it is then ready for the postman.

"Favorable."

We know that it sounds quackish to talk about the Electropoise curing incurable diseases, but let us consider the fact that it is the old treatment that has announced the case incurable. We do not make the claim that we can cure all incurable diseases, but we do maintain with all earnestness that a case pronounced incurable by your family physician is a splendid field for the operation of the Electropoise. It may be just to say that the "Poise" is not quite likely to be so. If it fails, it is no argument in case, the fact of the physician's statement is proven to be true. But many's the patient who has been given up by his physician who has again received life through treatment of the Electropoise.

ENGLISH KITCHEN

12 W. SHORT STREET, LEXINGTON, KY.

Regular Meals, 25 cents. Meals to order at all hours. Breakfast from 5 to 9 a.m. Dinner
10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Supper from 5 to 9 p.m.

Oysters, Lamb Fries, Fish and Chicken a Specialty.
GUM. LUIGART, Proprietor.

List of Election Officers.

The following is a list of election officers for the Democratic primary to be held July 27, 1895, in Wolfe County, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate for Representative in the 11th district.

Hazel Green Precinct—W. T. Swango, Clerk; J. T. Bierer, Sheriff; John E. Brown and James Lucy, Judges.

Red River Precinct—Jonathan Carroll, Clerk; George Patrick, Sheriff; Robert Anderson and Eliza Shockley, Judges.

Clift Precinct—Wm. Toliver, Clerk; Remey Culberson, Sheriff; Frank Bolin and Silas Murphy, Judges.

Stillwater Precinct—John Tester, Clerk; Steve Collier, Sheriff; Sam Combs and George Sally, Judges.

Compton Precinct—G. B. Stamper, Clerk; Samson Cox, Sheriff; S. B. Smith and Granville Evans, Judges.

Holly Precinct—Henry Elkins, Jr., Clerk; J. F. Taubert, Sheriff; Jonathan Elkins and David Banks, sons, Judges.

Fourth Precinct—Joel Cox, Clerk; Bill Bush, Sheriff; David Spencer and Jesse Adams, Judges.

Advertising Fakes.

The publisher of an Indiana exchange tells some plain truths in the following: "The editor can always write more cheerfully of the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with advertisements of the business houses. No editor can afford to ignore the doctrine of buying from home merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is depressing to the editor to find business men patronizing every advertising fake that comes along, and at the same time, the names of those business men are rarely, if ever, seen in the advertising columns of the local newspaper."

Four Hours Sufficient for Inflammatory Rheumatism.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Messrs. Dubois & Webb, Louisville, Ky.

GENTLEMEN—Through the kindness of Mr. Spencer Cooper, editor of the Hazel Green Herald, I was afforded an opportunity to try the efficacy of your "Electropoise," and I must say it acted like magic—almost a miracle to me. I was taken down with inflammatory rheumatism and in twenty-four hours my legs were swollen and my limbs ached with pain almost unbearable. I had no use of elbow, hips, knees or feet, and in this helpless condition I continued to suffer until Mr. Cooper came and offered to use the electropoise. I was taken down with inflammatory rheumatism and in twenty-four hours my legs were swollen and my limbs ached with pain almost unbearable. I had no use of elbow, hips, knees or feet, and in this helpless condition I continued to suffer until Mr. Cooper came and offered to use the electropoise. I had no faith whatever, but, like a drowning man catching at a straw, consented to its use. In four hours the pain left my leg, to which the "poise" was attached, and I continued to grow better and was able to sit up all day, and had not a pain about me. I resumed my business and feel as well as I ever did. I should add that about two years ago I was confined to my bed four months by a similar attack that the "poise" might have cured in four days. I BELIEVE now, and hope all who are afflicted as I was will try the same remedy. Gratefully,

F. N. DAY.

We are acquainted with the facts in this case, and can vouch for the truth of the above.

J. TAYLOR DAY,

JOHN H. PIERATT,

D. B. JAMES.

THE HERALD

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING HOUSE
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

HAZEL GREEN ACADEMY,

NORMAL AND

PREPARATORY & SCHOOL.

Session of 1895-'96 Begins First Monday in September.

FULL COURSES SUSTAINED
IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Expenses the Lowest,
Discipline the Firmest,
Instruction Thorough.

This school has been before the public for ten years, and it stands second to no other school in Eastern Kentucky in any particular.

Enlargements have been made in many ways to meet the increasing demands of each year.

Send for Catalogue of Particulars.

Wm. H. CORD,

Principal.
Hazel Green, Kentucky.

J. M. HAVENS,

PRACTICAL

Jeweler & Silversmith,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Diamonds,
Watches,
Fine Jewelry,
Silverware,
Bronzes, &c., &c.

Special attention to Repairing of all kinds.

Sewing Machines repaired at the lowest figure.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Nothing Pays Better!

Want a Policy? The United States Mutual is the best and the cheapest. An outlay of $24 per year will bring you $50 a week during disability, or $10,000 to your family in the event of death. Yes; you can take a policy for 8 months at a time, but, tomorrow may be too late. See him today,

SPENCER COOPER,
Agent for Morgan and
White Co., Inc.,
HAZEL GREEN, KY.

DO YOU WANT TO STOP TOBACCO?

YOU CAN BE CURED WHILE USING THE HABIT OF USING TOBACCO. The habit until grave diseased conditions are produced. Tobacco causes disease of the lungs, heart, kidneys, liver, brain, memory; nervous affections; congestions of the retina, and wasting of the optic nerve, resulting in impairment of vision, even to the extent of blindness, deafness, or vertigo; tobacco asthma; night suffocations; dull pain, followed later by sharp pains in the heart; palpitation and weakened pulse; even fatal heart disease. It also causes GOUT, BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE.

To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco—to an ex-smoker user, because a stimulant that system continually craves. "BACCO-CURE" is no scientific and reliable regular remedy, guaranteed to be perfect in every way, having cured thousands in the last 22 years, having cured thousands of habitual tobacco smokers, chewers and snuff-dippers.

YOU CAN USE ALL THE TOBACCO YOU WANT, WHILE TAKING "BACCO-CURE". IT WILL NOTIFY YOU TO STOP. WE GIVE A WRITTEN GUARANTEE TO PERMANENTLY CURE WITH 100% CERTAINTY.

"BACCO-CURE" is not a substitute for a reliable and scientific cure—which squarely destroys the craving for tobacco without the aid of will power, with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew.

Sold by all druggists, at $1.00 per three boxes, (thirty days treatment guaranteed cure). $2.50, or more, next receipt of price. SEND TWO-CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOXES.

Chemical & Manufacturing Chemists, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

Broadway Millinery Store

New Spring Styles

Hats and Bonnets

OF EVERY GRADE AND PRICE.
Fancy Goods, Flowers, Hair, Brooches, &c., at prices to suit the taste.

Mrs. MAGGIE GILLUM,
No. 31 North Broadway, Lexington,
Recently removed from 40 N. Broad-